

Pecchenino Le Coste di Monforte Barolo DOCG 2017

Pecchenino

PAIRS WITH

SCORE

91

Understated on first nose, the Pecchenino 2017 Barolo le Coste di Monforte lacks the precision that is delivered in cooler vintages than this one was. I'd go with a medium-term drinking window and don't expect too much complexity. The bouquet delivers cherry cola and dried plum aromas with tarry spice. There is more bite or crunch in the mouth, thanks to acidity and structure.

Monica Larner

Wine Advocate, June 2021

